1. Introduction

1.1. About INSPIRATION

The aim of INSPIRATION is to adopt a funder and end-user demand-driven approach to establish and promote the adoption of the knowledge creation, transfer and implementation agenda for land use, land-use changes and soil management in the light of current and future societal challenges. Main objectives are:

- Formulate, consult on and revise an end-user oriented strategic research agenda (SRA);
- Scope out models of implementing the SRA;
- Prepare a network of public and private funding institutions willing to commonly fund the execution of the SRA.

INSPIRATION's mission is to improve the supply and effectiveness of science/knowledge take-up by those who really need it. The proposed methodology is based on a multi-stakeholder, multi-national and interdisciplinary approach that covers the variety of stakeholders (public bodies, business, science, citizens and society) and the variety of relevant funders. The vehicle to engage with all relevant stakeholders across the Member States is a National Focal Point (NFP) in 16 countries. The NFP's will organize workshops with national stakeholders of funders, end-users and researchers across the various soil and land management disciplines.

The results will be taken up, structured along four integrative themes and merging into thematic knowledge needs to satisfy the as yet unmet societal challenges and to ensure that knowledge contributes primarily to enable meeting these challenges.

Based on these results a cross country and cross discipline dialogue will subsequently be organized among the relevant user communities, funding bodies and scientific communities in Europe in order to reach a trans-national, prioritized SRA as well as a model for execution of this SRA. Thus to achieve an SRA of which national funders believe that for any Euro they spend, they will get a multitude of Euro's worth of knowledge in return. Knowledge welcomed to face their national, societal challenges.

1.2. This deliverable

This report – i.e. INSPIRATION deliverable 2.2 – update 1 – gives an overview of the Registry of National Key Stakeholders (NKSS) cooperating in INSPIRATION of all contributing countries (figure 1). This deliverable relates to INSPIRATION Work Package (WP) 2, task 2.2 “Registry of National Key Stakeholders”. In the WP2 description this task is described in the following way:

“Under lead of the NFPs, a selected group of key stakeholders (approx. 20 per country) will bring in the information needed for being able to achieve the objectives of WP2. In INSPIRATION these key stakeholders are called the National Key Stakeholders (NKSs). These selected groups of NKSs represent for each country a balanced distribution of stakeholders deriving from the research funding and industry/business community (including SMEs), the scientific, consultancy, policy making, management arena as well as NGOs. Thus, it will be a mix of knowledge 'producers', 'consumers/end-users' and 'funders'. Many of these NKSs have already been identified and approached by the NFPs and returned a letter of support (LOS) in which they express their willingness to cooperate in INSPIRATION. These letters were annexed to the proposal. Under task 2.2 the list of NKSs will – also based upon suggestions resulting from task 2.1. – be completed for each country and the details of all NKSs will be included in a registry."

1.3. The NKS Registry

In chapter 2, a general overview per country is given of the NKSs. The NFPs agreed that this registry is not necessarily a fixed list. Alteration can occur and are welcomed when good NKSs can be attracted to the INSPIRATION project when expanding the national networks. The most recent version of the overview will be available by the WP2 leader (annex I).

For selection of the NKS some boundary conditions and points of attention are applied (cf. MoU, i.e. INSPIRATION deliverable 2.1. Brils et al, 2015)¹:

- ± 20 NSKs per country;
- NKSs are leading in their field of expertise, senior level of acting, well introduced in networks;
- NKS registry exists of max 33% knowledge 'producers' and 67% end-users + funders to ensure a demand-driven agenda;
- In each country: authorities, industry, university, SMEs etc., are represented by NKS;
- In each country field of expertise: soil, water, sediment, spatial planning are represented by NKS;
- NKS are willing to:
 - engage with the INSPIRATION project and fill out and sign the "INSPIRATION Engagement Consent Form" as provided in Annex IV of the MoU (INSPIRATION deliverable 2.1. Brils et al, 2015). That form will be made available to the NKS via the NFPs;
 - be informed on the INSPIRATION project.

This updated deliverable with general overviews is made publicly available via the INSPIRATION website www.inspiration-h2020.eu. NKSs per country can be reached via the NFPs for each country (Annex I).

1.4. General overview of NKS Registry

In total there are 432 NKSs in the NKS registry (dated 30-04-15). In figures 2, 3 and 4, the composition of the overall NKS registry is given.
